

This is about your future, about the sort of life you want when you stop working. You pay into your pension to give you security and dignity in retirement.

Changes recently imposed by UK Ministers to index pensions by CPI not RPI mean your pension is now worth less and you will receive less when you retire.

Scottish Ministers have said they will not impose the UK Minister's plan to increase contributions.

But they have given no assurances that other changes by UK Ministers will not happen in Scottish local government schemes to:

- Make you work longer
- Change the way pension benefits are calculated so you will get a smaller pension on retirement
